Victory 2009 Update

The Race is On!

This week the race for the Governor's Mansion became official with the election of the Democratic ticket-- Creigh Deeds for Governor, Jody Wagner for Lt. Governor and Steve Shannon for Attorney General. Our nominees Bob McDonnell, Bill Bolling and Ken Cuccinelli now know who they need to beat this November!

Creigh Deeds, his Democrat supporters and the liberal media are going to try and convince us that Deeds is a moderate. The truth is that over the past four years, in order to secure his party's nomination Deeds has sharply veered to the left in his voting record. Rest assured he is not a moderate--he is a true liberal. In the days ahead we will be fully discussing his voting record over the past four years and his sharp veer to the left, and the voters of Virginia will see that. Deeds is just another liberal Democrat trying to hide in moderate clothing.

Door-to-Door and Phone Banking

While Republicans have the right principles, values and ideals to govern Virginia, it will still be a fight--but a fight we can win. Every Virginia Republican can-- and must-- get involved with our GOP campaigns in one way or another by going door-to-door, making calls at Victory 2009 phone banks, attending an event or supporting the candidates online via their websites, Facebook, Twitter and more. We have recently launched our new Victory 2009 page-- www.rpv.org/victory2009-- with dates and locations for weekly door-to-doors and phone banking. Check back regularly for new information!

2009 Convention T-Shirts Still Available

Just a reminder-- for a $25.00 contribution or greater, we will send you a 2009 Official Republican Party Convention t-shirt as a token of our appreciation. Click here or call 804-780-0111 to make your contribution. Supplies are limited, so give today!

Candidate Update

James Edmunds- Candidate for H.O.D. 60th District

James Edmunds is running for the 60th House of Delegates seat which is being vacated by Republican Clarke Hogan. Born and raised in Halifax County, James Edmunds best understands the needs and values of the people he seeks to represent in Richmond.

Today James runs the family farming business and has served 10 years on the Halifax County Board of Supervisors. Married with two children, James is an active member of his community. He has volunteered for a number of organizations including his church where he serves as a deacon, the Good Samaritan Food and Clothing Bank, and the Wounded Warriors of Iraq and Afghanistan.

James is a conservative who wants to be a voice for the people of his district as well as someone who is willing to stand up to protect our freedoms and values. An avid hunter, James is a Life Member of the National Rifle Association and a concerned conservationist.

Running on a platform that focuses on jobs, public safety and education, James wants to keep taxes low, bring more industry and the jobs they create to the area, ensure our police have the resources they need, and improve education to make Southside's schools the best in the Commonwealth.
