WITTMAN TO HOST JOB FAIR MONDAY

Over Fifty Local, State, and Federal Employers

Seek New Employees

WASHINGTON, DC – This Monday Congressman Rob Wittman will host a job fair in Fredericksburg to provide opportunities for those around the First Congressional District who have been affected by the economic downturn. Companies attending have indicated that they have numerous job openings for positions including marketing reps, mechanical, electrical aerospace, chemical, computer engineers, accountants, administrators, secretarial, management, budget, sales, service, law enforcement, and more.

“I am pleased to host this event to get our friends, neighbors, and family members back to work. It’s my hope that this event will aid both employers and jobseekers as we look to put our economy back on track”, said Wittman.

Dear Friends:

On Monday, September 14, my office will be hosting a Job Fair for First District constituents. Federal and state government agencies and private sector businesses will be among the vendors in attendance.

I am deeply concerned about the job losses in our community, and I encourage you to attend this Job Fair.

As always, if you need assistance or wish to contact me for any reason, please contact one of my offices, or visit my web site at <http://wittman.house.gov>.

Sincerely,

Congressman Wittman listens to constituents and discusses his work in Congress.
